What is our portfolio?

• Strategy Into Action

Companies create their own destiny and therefore decision makers are responsible for defining their strategic direction. This cannot be delegated, outsourced or done by external business consultants.

Yet a poor strategy implemented in an excellent manner has a far higher change of success than an excellent strategy executed poorly. This is where Future Footprints comes into play. We can be of great help in challenging and translating a chosen strategic direction into practical and executable programs embracing lasting change in governance, process and/or product architectures. For one thing is sure, change is the constant factor and needs to be built-in at every step of the way.

• Realize With Impact

Once the outline of those strategic programs is sketched it all comes down to realization. Can it be done and if so how? Can it be done in the timeframes and budgets agreed? Can it be done with minimal interruption to the current organization?

This is the time to build programs for lasting and continuous change. Constantly aligning the objective of a program with the overall purpose. Keeping an open eye for the skills of the people in the team and their ability to contribute in often unexpected areas. With an understanding of the technology environment in the company at stake and tools available in the market. And all of this, with a dose of common sense – making it work is what matters most.

Taking the lead in programs is what we do, with both persistency and creativity, always in search for lasting impact.

• Operate For Excellence

Generating lasting impact means establishing an efficient and cost-effective operation for an organization that stands the test of time. This might mean changing existing procedures, taking a fresh look at sourcing issues, training people differently, applying less, more or different tools.

We support our customers with embedding these changes in the organization. We stand side by side with existing management either to assist them during the program or take over the running of the operation on a temporary basis to take the load of other people's shoulders.

Today's demands are high: low cost, high quality of service, fast time-to-market and great transparency in delivery – who said operational issues are not exciting?
